

4TH OF JULY SOCIAL STORY Therapy

Every year we celebrate my country's birthday on the 4th of July.	We celebrate with fireworks. Fireworks are fun.
Fireworks can be loud and give off bright lights.	If the fireworks get too loud, I can cover my ears with my hands or headphones.
If I don't want to look at the bright lights, I can look away or close my eyes.	If I see fireworks on the ground, I will not touch them.

I will listen to the adults and let them handle the fireworks.

If I get scared, I will hug my mom or dad. This might make me feel better.
